Smarter Together

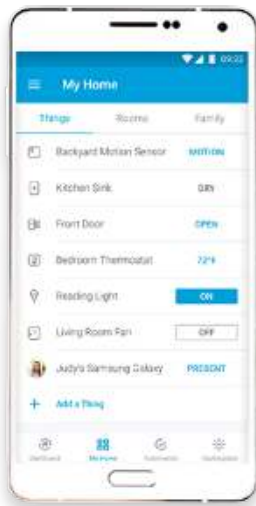

Connecting Samsung SmartThings to Caséta allows you to add different sensors and monitors to the best of smart home lighting. The result is a complete connected home lighting, monitoring, notification and control system that makes your home work better for you.

SMART HUB (formerly smart bridge)

Ultimate in Connectivity

The Caséta smart hub gives Samsung SmartThings a way to connect seamlessly with Lutron's smart lighting and shade controls.

Waking up together

Your connected home can ease you awake with a quiet raising of your shades, turning on the lights and even starting the coffee machine, all just by activating a sensor as you walk into the kitchen.

House sitting is a thing of the past

Your Caséta-connected home can use many different SmartThings sensors and monitors to keep an eye on your home and alert you to anything from your lights being left on to an unexpected motion to a water leak - so wherever you go, you can take peace-of-mind with you.

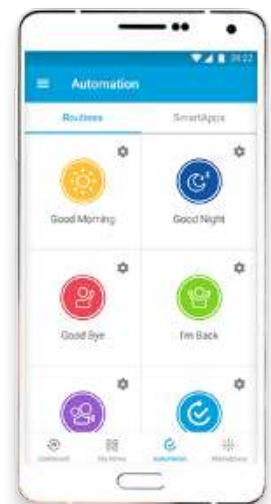

Turn your home on Autopilot

You can easily extend your Caséta system by adding a smart hub and any number of Samsung SmartThings devices that can detect motion, adjust the thermostat, turn on an outlet, or even sense a water leak. You can continue to build and personalize your smart home until you have just the control you want, from wherever you are.

A welcome home, always

With Caséta lighting and Samsung SmartThings motion sensors and outlets, you can automatically have the lights come on, the shades pull up and your Samsung TV turn on whenever there's a motion detected. So your home can welcome your family back from school even when you're not there.

Samsung SmartThings and the Caséta smart hub can make your connected home even smarter, allowing you to remotely monitor and control everything from the locks on your doors to the lights in your living room.
